About this document

This document describes our compliance with the Uniform Domain Name Dispute Resolution Policy.

Purpose

The purpose of this document is to provide a public statement by us regarding our intention to comply with decisions made using the Uniform Domain Name Dispute Resolution Policy.

What is the Uniform Domain Name Dispute Resolution Policy?

The Uniform Domain Name Dispute Resolution Policy (often referred to as 'UDRP') is a policy that all ICANN accredited Registrars must comply with. Further a registrant's acceptance of and compliance with the Uniform Domain Name Dispute Resolution Policy is included as a requirement in the customer registration agreement for the TLD.

Under the Uniform Domain Name Dispute Resolution Policy, most types of trademark-based domain name disputes must be resolved by agreement, court action, or arbitration, before a Registrar cancels or transfers a domain name.

Details about the Uniform Domain Name Dispute Resolution Policy can be found on the ICANN website at the following link <http://www.icann.org/en/general/consensus-policies.htm>.

Our role in the Uniform Domain Name Dispute Resolution Policy

Our role in the Uniform Domain Name Dispute Resolution Policy is to facilitate a Registrars' application of the policy. We do not make any determinations about a domain name or its use in relation to the Uniform Domain Name Dispute Resolution Policy.

Definition and review

This document has been prepared and published to represent our policy regarding the administrative and technical management of the TLD.
